presented themselves before teacher yesterday morning, and the 1912 public school session was under way, afore than a thousand, it is eitmated, were prevented from enrolling on the first day because of absence from the city and the rainy day, so that Super-intendent Chandler confidently expects to see the final registration exceed these figures by 2,000 or more.

The figures, as given out last night, showed a total registration of 10,469 white children and 5,354 colored children. These records are well above the marks set in the banner year of 1911, which were 9,721 white and 4,549 colored. At this early date, 748 more white children have entered the city public schools than ever before, while 505 more colored children have been enrolled than ever attended school in any previous session. Yesterday's registration exceeds the total for last year by 1,253.

Dr. Chandler, anticipating a record year by 1,253.

Dr. Chandler, anticipating a record enrolment on account of the growth of the city, has worked assiduously to have his department in shape to give to the individual scholar what the taxpayer expects his child to receive in the way of education. The teaching corps has been materially enlarged and new school buildings will be thrown new school buildings will be thrown open for the first time to take the place of the ancient and honorable schoolhouses built a few years after West Brond Street.
